QUERIES & ANSWERS. NOW TO SECURE CORRECTION OF

EXCESSIVE ASSESSMENT. THE HOME OF "KING" CARTER.

to Make a Hot-Red-Property Sold for Taxes-Pharmacy Lawsof Rust in Middling-

To the Editor of the Dispatch: If you are in possessith of or have access to statistics which report the relative frequency of sudden deaths between the users and the non-users of tobacco, please be so kind as to state the facts in the case; and much oblige.
SUBSCRIBER.

We know of no such statistics.

Cancelled Stamps.

Yours truly,

Ivy, Va-

To the Editor of the Dispatch: Please be kind enough to answer: Are id and cancelled United States stamps of any value? and, if so, to whom should of any value? and, if so, they be sent at Washington? Oblige ver, they be sent at Washington? Oblige ver, truly.

You would better go to the State Audi-

Rust in Middlings.

you. It is too long to publish.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

be thoroughly dried out and aired.

Pharmacy Laws.

All States and Territories except Alaska, Arizona, Indiana Territory, Into give an intelligent answer.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

lies only to towns of tion, varying from 900 to 1,500.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

Insurance Question.

of obtaining a line of credit for the bene-ficiary, who some short time after as-signs. "B" shortly after assignments claimed not to be able to hold policy and pay premiums, and would sell policy, beneficiary owing him $750 at the time,

The above query, though rather complicated, is very similar to one answered about three weeks since, to which "A Reader" is referred. The first assignment is invalid, as against the beneficiary,

The second assignment of "A" and the excess beyond the indebtedness above decision of the United States Supreme Court previously given, and any other construction would constitute a "wager-

How to Make a Hot-Bed.

Please publish direction for making a

To make a hot-bed, procure enough fresh stable manure to make a thickness of two and a half feet over the space to be occupied by the bed; add to this one third of fresh tree-leaves, and mix

by turning over the manure and leaves together. Fermentation will soon take place, and after five or six days turn the whole again, shaking very thoroughly, so that the leaves will be well incorporated

When fermentation proceeds for several days after this second turning, it will Select a sheltered place, and mark off the size of the frame to be used, adding to it an additional eighteen inches all

'round the space; this will make the bed that much larger than the frame, which will better economize the heat under the frame. Spread the prepared material up the sides perfectly solid and square.

azed sashes for a hot-bed are usually be ready to put in shape for a hot-bed.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

forced by law.

ed in the manure.

Central Life vs. Woods.)

A. READER.

1. In Lancaster county, near the Rappa-So far as we are informed, they are of hannock river. It was called Corotoman, and the old estate was an extensive one. lying between Carter's creek and Coroto-Property Sold for Taxes. man river. The Corotoman residence was the Editor of the Dispatch:

burned by the British in 1812. Will you kindly publish in the Query 2. It is still standing, and in a good lumn of your paper the law recently acted in regard to the non-payment of state of preservation, though unused. under which the State sells the The tomb of "King" Carter and other taxes, under which the State sells the real estate in arrears, and gives a good title to same? If not too long, kindly publish in full and explain the law's operations. If a person allows his taxes to fall into arrears without intent or knowledge on his part (in the case of heirs, for instance), will not the law work a great hardship, and has such a person no redress against those purchasing the real estate under these circumstances? Yours truly. tombs of the family in the yard near the wall of the church are broken and neglected.

width; the frame is made with boards;

the front being 10 or 12 inches in height, and the back about 8 inches higher; set anywhere from southeast to mouth, the latter to catch the rays of the morning

After the bed is completed as described, the heat will rise in a few days, and when it shows somewhat subsiding, and shows about 95 degrees by a thermometer, plunged just under the surface, it can then be covered with eight inches of good soll, and seeds, sown at once,

This soil should be made quite firm before the seeds are sown. If the heat becomes too great, raising the temperature of the frame to 90 degrees or so, the shashes can be propped up for the admission of air, taking care not to admit air too freely when the outer temperature

"King" Carter.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

is below freezing.

great-grandchildren.

2. Mr. J. B. Crall, of Kilmarnock, Va., owns the old homestead, with twenty-five acres of land surrounding it. The old laundry is still standing, and is occupied by a tenant.

Land Assessments.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

tor's office and have the law explained to A property, consisting of one quarter of an acre of ground, with dwelling and wood-house on lot, was assessed at $500. In 1855 the owner tore away part of the old dwelling, remodelled, and added to it at an actual cost value of two thirds of Will the Dispatch kindly tell me what causes middling to rust? Also, which is the best to produce butter, mill-feed or the first value to property. In 1896 the reassessment was made, but the assessor never called on the owner, or in any way ascertained from the owner the cost of In regard to the first point as to what the improvements. The owner knew nocauses middlings to rust, this is, in all making payment of State and county probability, due to a fungus growth. The taxes, the valuation of this property was found to be raised to $1,500. The law best preventive is to keep the middlings in a dry place and not allow them to bein regard to this reads "that protest must be made previous to October succeeding the reassessment. Does not a county come moist or heated. As soon as the "rust" is noticed, the middlings should court possess the right to correct an error? The owner is informed that the In regard to the second point, our corexorbitant fax or excessive valuation must be paid for five years. Is it the dry of the assessor fo see the owner or agent of the property? The owner is respondent is so indefinite in the use of the term "mill-feed" that it is impossible the more troubled, because the surrounding property has not been valued in pro-The increase is a grievous burden. If the County Court has no power Please inform me, in your Sunday's issue, which of the States have examining boards and laws regulating the practice of pharmacy, and oblige X. to correct errors, where can one apply for redress? Does the State Legislature make provision for this?

A. C.

New Plymouth, Lunenburg, Va. To the Editor of the Dispatch:

At a sale held for delinquent land by diana, and Nevada have pharmacy laws. the Treasurer of the county, I bought three parcels of land. Such land cannot In thirty-seven instances the law applies territorially to the whole State or disbe found. In what way can I get my trict in which it is enacted. Twelve acts, money refunded?
Has the County Judge the power to however, have only a limited applicaorder the Treasurer to refund it. If not so, it looks as if the State obtained my tion, depending upon the distribution of the population. The Maryland law apney under false pretences. By answer-plies to Baltimore; Kings county, to ing the above you will oblige, Brooklyn: Erie county, to Buffalo, and Yours, &c. New York, to New York city, etc. The In answer to "A. C." we would say that section 444 of the Code, as amended by the law in Arkansas, Delaware, and Tennessee applies only to incorporated cities act of March 8, 1894, provides that any and towns. The law in Alabama, Floperson feeling himself aggrieved by the rida, Kentucky, Montana, and Texas ap-assessment of his lands or lots may apply poration Court of the city, in which the land lies at any time prior to the first day of February of the next succeeding year after such assessment, and not after, to have the assessment of his lands or lots Please give the law and your opinion on the following: "A" insures his life for $5,600, with his wife as beneficiary. "A" corrected. on the leasowing: Ar insures his life for $5,000, with his wife as beneficiary. "A" lms kept this policy in force from 1889 to 1896, paying $1,500 premiums. "A" assigns this policy to "B" for the purpose The last assessment of real estate was made in the year 1895, and those aggrieved by the assessment by the assessors had the right to apply at any time before February 1, 1896, to the court of the county or city in which the real estate was situated for correction of the assessment, but no right to make such application beneficiary owing him $500 at the time, which "A" could not pay at the time. Under these circumstances "A" and the beneficiary assigned, sold, and deeded this policy for consideration of the $500 to "B." Now "B" is holding policy, paying the premiums. If "A" died is "B" entitied by law to the $5,000, or only what the beneficiary owes "B." and have minor children any claim on such a policy?

A. READER. after that date. If such application was not made before February 1, 1896, the value placed upon the real estate by the assessor must stand as the basis for taxation until the next assessment is made in the year

In reply to G. S.: The statutes provide no remedy for one aggrieved in the manner recited. The Legislature alone can give you relief.

Notice to Correspondents. No notice will be taken of anonymous communications. In answering queries our first attention who was not a party to it. The wife had will be given to the letters of those cora contingent interest, of which she could respondents who ask but one question not be divested without her consent."-(See Indiana Court of Appeals; Union each. We cannot publish copyrighted songs and poems without the permission of beneficiary is valid to the extent of the the owner of the copyright.

This column is not an advertising melatter's indebtedness, including the dium. No query will receive attention amount of premiums subsequently paid by "B," with interest, "only that, and the answer to which would necessitate the advertising of any person's business nothing more." In the event of "A's" death, therefore, "B" is not entitled to or wares.

Nor will any attention be given to long the face of the policy ($5,000), but only to the amount of the original indebtedness "strings" of questions. Every week numbers of correspondents ignore this ($750), plus subsequent premiums, with interest, as already stated, and the benerule of ours, and afterwards wonder why their queries are not answered, ficiary, if living, or heirs or estate of Many queries are not answered be-"A," if dead, would be entitled to any cause similar ones have been recently answered. specified. This is in accordance with the

We cannot undertake to ascertain the value of old coins. For that information write to some dealer in them.

We cannot undertake to answer queries ing contract," which is contrary to public by mail; we can only answer them policy, and could not, therefore, be enthrough this column.

We are frequently called upon to republish poems and songs, but we will not undertake to do so, except where the production called for has some historical or peculiar literary merit, and is not of easy access to the average reader. Address 'Query Editor, Dispatch Office, N. B. We do not read unsigned letters.

Book Reviews.

THE FIRST BATTLE. A Story of the Campaign of 1896. By William J. Bryan, Together with a Collection of His Speeches, and a Biographical Sketch by His Wife. Illustrated. W. B. Conkey & Co., Chicago. Pages, 630. This is pre-eminently a Bryan book.

Its contents were mostly written and spoken by him, except the sketch of his life, which was prepared at the instance of the publishers, by his wife. She says that her relation to him prohibited both to a mere statement of facts. But those facts involve a good deal of laudation. Mr. Bryan's antecedents and opportunities were honorable and favorable and his own progression has been highly creditable. criticism and eulogy, and confined her evenly ever the space, tramping it down as layer after layer is added, building creditable.

The front cover bears his portrait and bold autograph in silver, whilst the title is in gilt letters—significant, we suppose, of his bimetallism. The frontispiece is feet in length and about & feet in his portrait again, and yet we have him further at four stages of his life—at 4, 20, 26, and 36 years of age. We are pre-sented also with a fine likeness (and a sketch) of Mrs. Bryan and their three children; and if he had been elected there would have been another Ruth playing in the White House. Besides all these Bryanistic features, there are views of his library and writing set, his parents' and three residences in Illinois of his library and writing set, his parents', and three residences in Illinois and Nebraska. Among the thirty other portraits are included not only Sewall, our own Daniel, and prominent associates, but McKinley and Hobart. Their sixteenmillions-money-bag Hanna is omitted. Three leading Bryan men are introduced in another and unique manner: The work is "dedicated to the three eers"-Bland, Weaver, and Tellerwhose likenesses are grouped upon a shield emblazoned with ten stars. Brief sketches of them are also given. The illustrations are very well executed, and do not end with what have been enumerated. They embrace scenes of the convention hall, the meeting at Rochester, "a study in hats," "A snap-shot and crowd at Wellsville, O.." and maps of the campaign journeyings. The author's preface is in fac-simile auto-graph, and in his introduction he pre-Will the Dispatch kindly answer, through the Query column the following questions: (I) Where is the home of ---King Carter, situated in what county; and (2) is the chapel still standing; and (3) who owns the old place? Who lives pares the way for the great campaign of 1896 with an account of his action in the Congresses of which he was a member. About the longest speech in his book is one of those which he delivered against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law. There are in it reports of near eighty of his speeches, of all kinds, together with letters, platforms, and other december the late. there now? By answering these questions you will greatly oblige one of his greatand other documents relating to the late presidential contest. There are also tables showing the electoral votes of 1892 and 1896. The work concludes with Explanations, and The Future. All these things make a large volume, and the publishers have made it a handsome one, and a very large portion of whose contents have been spread far and vide to an unusual extent, for the campaign of 1886 was not only one of vast importance and latense interest, but largely conducted in an unaccustomed manuer. conducted in an unaccustomed manner.

Bryan went almost everywhere to the people and Hanna paid people to go to McKinley. Silver, gold, tariff, and everything which must go to make up McKinley's Administration, being duly constanted we still believe that the inaugusidered, we still believe that the inauguration of Bryan as President would be far more conducive to the country's wel-

> NOR WIFE, NOR MAID. By Mrs. Hun gerford. Author of "Peter's Wife."
> "The Three Graces," etc. American > Publishing Corporation, New York. 18.6.
> Pages, 386. Price, 50 cents.

This is the last fruit, unless she has left some posthumous production of which we are not advised, of the popular pen of "The Duchess," for that pen is now as silent as her grave. We borrow the following notice of her:

"The death of 'The Duchess' removed a writer who has amused and entertained many people since her literary career began. "The Duchess' was Margaret Hamilton Hungerford, formerly Mrs. Argles daughter of the Rev. Canon Ham ilton, rector of one of the oldest churche in Ireland, at Roscarberry. She wrote while in school, but adopted literature as a profession after the death of her husband in order to support herself and her three little children. She was successful from the first. Her three earliest efforts-'Phyllis,' 'Molly Bawn,' and 'Airy efforts—'Phyllis,' 'Molly Bawn,' and 'Airy Fairy Lillan'—which appeared in 1877, 1878, and 1879, respectively, achieved immediate popularity. The subsequent volumes, bearing the assumed name 'The Duchess,' commanded ready sales. The income from her literary productions enabled her to live in ease. She produced more than thirty novels. 'Mrs. Geoffrey,' 'Undercurrents,' and 'A Born Coquette,' are among her most popular tales, after those mentioned above. It is tales, after those mentioned above. said that more than 250,000 copies of her 'Phyllis' have been sold." The above does not mention the work now before us; which does not mar the good reputation that the writer had won and enjoyed. Though liable to some friendly strictures, it is recommended to our readers. The title is substantially a misnomer, for the beautiful and noble heroine, Mary Seatoun, who is characterized as "neither wife, nor maid," was a true and devoted wife in the sight of God, and became the lawful spouse of the man whom she ardently loved, by a

We were particularly taken with the lovemaking and sparring between Mary's youngest sister, Arabella, and Lord Rilminster. She captured that curious, but desirable Earl, to the surprise, but with the hearty approval, of her whole family.

UNDER SIX FLAGS, THE STORY OF TEXAS. By M. E. M. Davis, author of "In War Times, at La Rose Blanche," "Under the Man-Fig." etc., etc. Bos-ton and London: Ginn & Co. 1897. Pages 178

Pages, 178. In our modern novel literature we have a very strong story styled "Under Two Flags"; but here, we have thrice

Two Flags"; but here, we have thrice that number. At last "the lone star" added itself to the constellation of the United States, but was once in the group of the Southern Confederacy.

Texas has had a very romantic history and can proudly boast of a number of heroes, who are not slighted in this small and compact work. It is illustrated with flags, maps, portraits, Spanish missmall and compact work. It is illustrated with flags, maps, portraits, Spanish missions, and public edifices, including the old and new capitols, the State University, and the Sam Houston Normal Institute. It is also provided with a propopering yearbulary and an index too nouncing vocabulary and an index, too often omitted in southern productions. VIRGINIA LAW REGISTER FOR FEB-RUARY.

Table of Contents: I. Preferred Creditors in a Deed of Trust-W. W. Old, II. Right to Recover Premiums Paid On a Void Policy-D. O. Dechert. III. Liability of Infants for Torts Connected With Contracts-David H. Leake. IV. United States Supreme Court Decisions Werner vs. Texas and Pacific Railway Company; Statute of Parol Agreement; Agreements Not to Be Performed in a Year-Possibility of Performance Within the Year; Editorial Note-Agreements.
Not to Be Performed in a Year, V.
Virginia Decisions, Reported in FullMartin vs. South Salem Land Company, Recovery of Stock Subscriptions.
VI. Miscellaneous Notes. VII. For the Juniors: When Finder's Title Not Good
Against All the World, Save the True Editorial Note-Agreements Juniors: When Finder's Title Not Good Against All the World, Save the True Owner, 778; Power of Appointment Over Property, 780; Sale of After-Acquired Chattels, 782. VIII. Correspondence: The Weatherholz Case—W. B. Kegley, 787; A New Definition of a Demurrer to Evidence—C. M. B., 789. IX. Book Notices: Huffcut's Elements of the Law of Agency-John W. Davis, 791.

ON MANY SEAS. The Life and Exploits of a Yankee Sailor. By Frederick Benton Williams. Edited by His Friend, William Stone Booth. New York: Macmillan & Co. 417 pages, $1.50. The hero and narrator runs away from home when a boy, and goes to sea on a coasting schooner. Beginning with that experience, he tells a story of his adventures in knocking around the world in various vessels. Some of these adventures are outre exciting others very In various vessels. Some of these adventures are quite exciting, others very amusing, and nothing about the book is dull. The style is simple and natural, and the story is calculated to interest equally old and young. On the whole, "On Many Seas" is a book the reader will remember as having afforded him entertainment and recreation. However, it would have been better if some of the highly-colored language, so common it would have been better it some or highly-colored language so com aboard ship, had been suppressed. For sale by George M. West.

MADEMOISELLE BLANCHE. A Novel.

By John D. Barry. New York: Stone & Kimball. 1896. This is a book of 339 handsomely bound pages; price, $1.50. But more important still, it is a fine story; clear, well told, and THE FAULT OF ONE. By Effic Adelaide Rowlands, author of "A Faithful Trait-or," "My Pretty Jane," "The Speli of Ursula," etc. Philadelphia: J. B. Lip-pincott Company, 1897. Price, 50 cents. All who are exposed to the weather

keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup

cured of any disease, no matter how constant and persevering the treatment, when that treatment is alto-gether misdirected, and can not possi-bly reach the trouble.

This explains why those afflicted with catarrh meet with so much discouragement, Though they faithfully take the usual treatment consisting of sprays, washes, etc., and pass through the summer without much discomfort, as soon as cold weather returns, they find themselves more firmly in the grip of the disease than ever. Such results could hardly be expected if the proper treatment had been given.

Any one who has had experience with catarrh will readily admit that it is one of the most obstinate of diseases: it is easy to see, therefore, that it is deep-seated, and that no remedy which merely reaches the surface can have the slightest effect upon it. The only known cure for catarrh is a real blood remedy, one which gets at the seat of the disease-the cause of the troubleand forces it from the system. Such a

Mr. H. P. COOK.

Mr. H. P. Cook, of 32 Walker street, Atlanta, Ga., suffered intensely from catarrh. He says:

"I at first thought I had only a bad cold, and didn't give much attention to the obstructions in my nose and throat. This soon became noticeable, and began to so inconvenience me, that I applied for treatment and was given the usual local applications of sprays, washes, etc. The immediate effect of the treatment was to relieve me, but only for a short time after application, and I could easily see that the disease was growing worse stead-ily, and seemed to grow deeper toward my lungs; my nose and throat were constantly choked up, so that I was all the time hawking and spitting, and to add to it all, the disease became very offensive. I was unable to obtain much sleep, being compelled to get up constantly during the night to clear my throat and keep from choking. O "I tried various treatments without relief, as none of the medicines seemed to reach the disease. Finally some to reach the disease. Finally, some one recommended S. S. S., and before I had finished one bottle, I felt better. I continued the medicine, and it cured me permanently. I truly believe S.S.S. is the only cure for catarrh, the most abominable of all diseases."

S. S. S. is unlike all other blood remedies, because it is more than a mere tonic, and goes directly to the seat of all blood diseases, and cures the most aggravated cases of Cancer, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Eczema, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy guaranteed

Purely Vegetable. Books on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free to any address, by SWIFT SPECIFIC Co., Atlanta, Ga.

High Notions.

(Observations of a Philosophical Friend of Ours.) Everything that has life feels the up ward and outward impulse-the desire to grow and expand. What we call ambition is only this force within us. It moves us for the better; to improvement in everything. To grow smaller is to waste and wither; to go towards sleep and numbness is to go towards death Life is a thing to be fed and cultivated and cherished and increased. Our impulses and energies make our life. The power within that directs and controls, and gives character to these is the heart out of it are the issues of life,

We can consider the lilies, and learn from them unselfish, instinctive, natural growth, and increase in size, in loveliness, in fragrance, in diffusive delightfulness. They have plenty of spirit and life and character; they develop to the fullest all the virtue and grace that is in them. But, while we admire and enjoy them, we do not receive from them the slightest suggestion of what we call ambition. They do not appear to be seeking their own, but only in the light of the sun, to be doing their duty in that state, in which their Maker has set them. And how unquestioned is their respectability; how great their glory!

There is no more of selfish ambition about the oak than there is about the lily. Its life, the will of its Creator, is the heart of the acorn. The oak no sooner begins to feel itself, but it throws off its baby-clothes; it sends down its roots to the depths of the earth, and fastens itself and its strong foundations in the rocks, and spreads its laterals to the rivers; and it sends up its shoots to-wards the heavens. Its life is not in darkness, but out in the light; in the light its grand development manifests itself—but there is no suggestion of ambition in it; its great limbs mean only strength, and officers of comfort and service to man. Its leaves and acorns, beautiful in their simplicity. mean life for itself, and reproductions of Itself for generations to come. It is strong to resist tempests; it is out-spreading to afford protection; it is grand and beautiful to inspire and de-light the heart of man, and give honor to the Almighty.

There is nothing in nature to teach selfish ambition, though there is everything to animate and instruct the heart and fortify the soul.

The typical man is "as a hiding place from the wind, a covert from the tempest, as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land."

The common-place, ambitious man is altogether out of the order and harmony of together out of the order and harmony of mature. His development is not from within. The germ of manhood is faith: conscious divineness, and kinship to the Almighty, and sense of the image of God. This is knowledge of God and of His Son, Jesus Christ; the life immortal. On this foundation, and out of this germ, develops life worth living; first the blade, then the ear, and after that the full corn in the ear; the fulness of manhood, out of the life revived by the Spirit of God.

ear; the fulness of manhood, out of the life revived by the Spirit of God.

This is the true evolution of manhood. This is the true idea misrepresented by worldly ambitton.

A mere desire for place, position, prominence, regardless of merit, has no respectable place in nature. It is only the weed or stubble. Essential virtue and real manhood are fed by everything. All the cauties and glories of the outside world ontribute to their enjoyment.

contribute to their enjoyment.

The common sun, the air, the skies,
To them are opening Paradise.

The spirits of just men, in the present and in the past, are in sympathy with them, and are a part of their life. The rising material and buoyancy of life come of piety, virtue, and intelligence. He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips, the King shall be his friend. And all his acquisitions, growth, and life will be of the pure and rising kind, around which people and things—true, honest, and just; pure, lovely, and of good report—shall delight to gather in the highest places of the earth. The places from which he greatest influence has flowed have been a manger; the humble house of two sisters and a brother, and an outside well. And the bounty that has given a keynote to the world's charities side well. And the bounty that has given a keynote to the world's charities was the modest deposit of two mites into the treasury of God. All the leavings of defunct millionaires could not approach it. The supremest act of self-sacrifice has fulfilled its promise—"If I be lifted up, I will draw all men unto Me."

A Beautiful Home Marriage. The marriage of Miss May E. Taylor,

f Farmville, and Mr. Albert F. Howard, of New York, took place at "Needham," the nome of the bride, on Wednesday, 10th, at 3 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Simpson, of Farmville, performed the ceremony, which was both pretty and touching. The bride was attired in a stylish and becoming light green suit. She received quite a number of useful and handsome presents. Miss Helen M. Owen, of Green Bay, was maid if honor, and little Ruth Houston, of armville, acted beautifully as flower-

The parlor was tastefully and originally decorated with flowers and evergreens of several kinds. There were only twenty friends present. After the ceremony refreshments were served.

What Next?

(Buffalo Medical Journal.) We have boiled the hydrant water, We have strained the milk, We have strained the prowling microbe Through the finest kind of silk.

We have bought and we have borrowed Every patent health device And at last the doctor tells us That we've got to boil the ice.

Theatre= Goers.

Matters little where you sit, the enjoyment is keener with a pair of Opera-Glasses to make the plain plainer. The expense of Opera-Glasses ends with the purchase.

Good Lemaire Glass, $5.

Cases of every description.

73! east Main street,

J. F. SARG & SONS

Artificial Mothers' Milk,

~~~~ Prepared from pure cows milk by the new German patented process. The only healthy substitute for mothers' milk ever produced. Ask you physician about it.

For sale at

T. A. Miller's DRUGSTORE,

519 Broad street, Richmond, Va.

THE DISPATCH SOUVERIR. (2222222)

FOR

A GROWING DEMAND

Our Lost Gause.

There is a growing demand for the beautiful Confederate Souvenir gotten out by the DISPATCH for the benefit of its patrons. It is a work of art, and when framed will prove a precious memento of OUR LOST CAUSE. Cut out 3 coupons of different dates and bring them with 10 c ats to our counter, or send them with 10 cents and a two-cent postage stamp, if you wish them mailed to any address. In the latter event, address

Coupon Department,

Surprise Special Sale No. 21

THE GLOBE

for one week, beginning Monday morning, ending next Saturday night-two separable Collars and separable Link Cuffs, at 39c.

THE FEARLESS FIGURES FOR FINE SUITS FOR A FEW DAYS MORE. Every elegant and modest material almost is included in this line-Tweeds, Cheviots, Velours, Cassimeres, and Clays. Whether your need is a suit for daily or dress occasion wear, you'll find your choice in this superb show of handsome All-Wool Stuffs at the very modest sum of $6.98.

Yes, we have them. As to price, you are fancy free from 98c. to the Royal

Our NEW CAPS are in for the little folks-sold on the second floor-the finest Children's department in the South.

Do you like our guarantee?-MONEY BACK FOR THE ASKING.

GOLD DUST.

Largest package-greatest economy.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY,

New York.

The National Bank of Virginia,

(STATE DEPOSITORY)

Curner Main and Eleventh streets - - - Richmond, Va.

Capital and Surplus, $360,000.

L. Z. MORRIS, VICE-PRESIDENT; O. S. MORTON, GEORGE L. CHRISTIAN, PRESIDENT;
J. W. LOCKWOOD, CASHIER ;

DIRECTORS: JAMES N. BOYD, S. H. HAWES, H. T. ELLYSON, T. F. JEPFRESS, FREDERICK E. NOLTING.

Business accounts solicited and every facility extended. Negotiable paper discounted.

Collections for banks and bankers will have prompt attention. Correspondence invited.

We are out for business, and we are satisfied that we can get your business if you will getour prices. You have the cash and we have the goods. A fair exchange is no robbery. Carriage and Wagon Material.-

Philadelphia.

We are giving especial attention to this line, and can offer many inducements, and by special arrangements we can save you money. Springs, Axles, Hubs, Spokes, Rims, Enamelled and Cotton Ducks, Paints, Oils, and Varnish for fine work in stock at all time and at rock-bottom prices. Next Sunday's issue of the DISPATCH will contain a special pointer from us. Look for it. BALDWIN & BROWN.

Opposite Old Market, 1557 East Main Street, Richmond, Va.

**************** Wood's Grass
Have obtained the nighest reputation for purity, cleanliness and germination, causing our business in the same to become one Clover Seeds..

Surplus and Undivided Profits....

Have obtained the highest reputaof the largest in the United States. Handling these Seeds in the large quantities that we do, also enables us to sell same at the lowest possible prices, quality considered.
WOOD'S SEED BOOK gives the fullest information about Grasses and Clovers—soils the different sorts are adapted for—best combinations to give largest results in hay or pasturage—care of pastures and meadows, &c., &c. A postal will bring this book to you. Prices and samples of Grass and Clover Seeds sent on application. T. W. WOOD & SONS, Seedsmen, Richmond, Va.

*********************** L. Z. MORRIS, VICE-PRESIDENT, R. A. PATTERSON, PRESIDENT,

JAMES M. BALL, CASHIER. The Savings Bank of Richmond

Sums of $1 and upwards received and interest allowed. Negotiable Paper counted. Loans made on real estate.

Open daily from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Saturdays till 12 M. ja 19-Tu, Th&Sa corner Eleventh and Main streets, In National Bank of Virginia Building. $100,000 00 52,232 44

BOOK AND JOB WORK

NEATLY EXECUTED AT THE DISPATCH JOB OFFICE